Two Bridges Young Composers Compositions

Morning - Ken Aida

Hello, my name is Ken Aida and I play the piano and viola. I started learning composition for about a year with Mr. Cyrus. It was a great experience, and I sometimes feel proud when I finish a piece. It takes lots of hard work, but in the end, all the time pays off. Mr. Cyrus taught me to use musescore to write music. The reason why I wrote Morning is that morning is the start of a new day. Morning is supposed to be a happy time that's bright and cheerful. Every morning, your mind is fresh and new and ready for the day. It is the time where your brain is most productive, and when you could do your best. These are the reasons why I wrote Morning.

Metamorphosis - Tina He

Metamorphosis is a piece about changing small or big, no matter what phase of change it is, sudden or gradual. But even while changing and growing into something different, it always retains some quality of it while developing or learning new parts of itself, hence its name. Originally this piece was called "Circumference" due to the fact that I just really wanted a well-rounded piece for once, but then it was called "Dye" or "Dyed" both which didn't settle well in the stomach as you can see (By the way, I meant the color dye, not the other one... you probably know what I mean). I started off with something small, a small melody; I wanted it to repeat because learning from the previous piece, which was a little too inconsistent for my mother's taste, I wanted to be able to connect the ideas that I had with a single thread. I don't know if it actually worked but I think that this might be a little more successful than my previous piece.

Dark Mind - Minh Anh Pham

My name is Minh Anh. I am 11 years old. I've been playing the piano for more than two years. I started taking composition classes in the summer of 2017. I thought that it would be fun, learning how to write amazingly inspiring pieces.

I constantly have trouble with writing pieces, they're either really hard to be generated or they're just too cliché. I need a whole lot of inspiration and ideas to come up with successful ideas. Although the process is hard, confusing and stressful, it could also be fun, enjoyable, and exciting. Only if you look at it in a different way. If you're being forced into it, it isn't a pleasant feeling.

Now, about the piece that you're about to hear today. One day, I was thinking about my homework assignment on writing an orchestra piece. I said to myself, "What will bring out my style of forte and suddenness? What will grab the attention of bored ladies and tired gentlemen?" I thought, and thought, and thought. Nothing would come to mind. I slept on it for a few days, trying to generate some ideas. That was when I started to listen to some more orchestra and string quartets pieces to get an idea of what my piece will be like. After hearing a few string quartets and a couple of orchestra pieces, I got my idea.

Two Bridges Young Composers Compositions

It was quite simple, the violinist moves the melody along with the ups and downs. Then, the viola comes in with a quite similar part but not exactly. This was when I had some trouble. It wasn't convincing enough. Due to those difficulties, I asked my teacher for help and advice (that I really need). The rest of the piece went on and about fluently, but I got a little bit excited for the end so I added some surprises. I hope you like it. Dark Mind

In the Tide of War – Nathaniel Tang

Hi, I'm Nathaniel Tang. I'm a 16 year old kid in Manhattan that just wants to make music and art for fun. My goal is to one day create an animation or game of my own by myself so I'm learning how to compose music. The idea was to make a song for when a player lost the final battle. However, it transformed into a piece where it started to sound more like an epic battle or war compared to fighting a video game boss. Basically, I thought it sounded more serious.

The Flower Life – Valerie Tang

My name is Valerie and I composed the piece called The Flower Life. At first I had no idea what I was trying to make the piece sound like, so the process of making it was difficult for me. After a while I thought I wanted the piece to be about a flower's life. So I included a part where they are blooming, alive (like adults in human life), and a part where there would die, and when they would blossom again.

The first part is about the flower growing, the second part is about the where the flower is living its life and the third part is where the flower is dying. The last part is where the flower is growing again.

Special thanks to Cyrus von Hochstetter for connecting his young student composers with our Nassau String Orchestra. www.cyrusvonh.com

James Ludwig (Nassau Men's Choir) grew up singing as a chorister at the Cathedral of the Incarnation in Garden City on Long Island, where he learned to read music, sing Renaissance polyphony, tie a tie, and play ultimate frisbee. He currently teaches choral music in the Herricks School District on Long Island, where he works with both middle and high school singers, whose energy and sense of humor are truly a source of constant inspiration. Having been a singer himself throughout middle and high school, James believes choral music is especially valuable for young people. Like sports, it teaches teamwork, discipline, and practice; and like visual arts it exposes teens to creative expression that is not accessible through video games and smartphones. James is a singer and board member in the eVoco Voice Collective. He has served as guest conductor for district and county festivals and has presented workshops about ensemble classroom management and strategies for teaching middle school music at both all-state and regional conferences for NYSSMA, NYSCAME, and ACDA. His choral compositions are available through GIA, Hinshaw, and a self-published catalog. His works have been performed in the United States and Great Britain, including by eVoco, the FSU Choral Union, and the Phoenix Chorale under the direction of Charles Bruffy. He holds degrees from Queens College and Berklee College of Music. James is thrilled to be invited to conduct the MYO Nassau Men's Choir and help MYO's tenor and bass voices continue singing as their voices develop.

Edward P. Norris III (Nassau Chamber Chorale) is the director of Choral Music at Glen Cove High School. He conducts the Mixed Chorus and Select Chorale and also teaches courses in Music Theory, and AP Music Theory. During Mr. Norris' tenure at Glen Cove High School, the Mixed Chorus and Select Chorale have only received Gold Medals and Gold Medals with Distinction at the NYSSMA Major Ensemble festivals. In 2013, the Select Chorale was invited to perform at the White House for the President and Mrs. Obama, as well as other invited guests. In January of 2016, Mr. Norris and the Select Chorale performed in a concert tour of Italy which included performances at St. Peter's Basilica, the Church of San Lorenzo, and the Basilica of St. Francis. While on tour, the Chorale had the distinct honor to perform for His Holiness Pope Francis at the Feast of the Epiphany at St. Peters. In the spring of 2019, the Chorale had the honor of performing at the Music For All National Choral Festival in Indianapolis, Indiana. Mr. Norris is very fortunate to have been a guest conductor/clinician at many choral festivals and is also an adjunct professor at the Aaron Copland School of Music at Queens College. Currently in his thirteenth year with MYO, Mr. Norris is extremely proud to be the director of the Chamber Chorale. In recent years, this group has performed some of the world's finest choral literature in stunning performance settings. Mr. Norris is extremely grateful for the opportunity to work with these fine young vocalists!

Kenneth Zagare (Nassau Symphonic Choir) has been directing the acclaimed vocal ensembles at Malverne High School for over a decade, focusing on technical prowess and inclusive, multicultural programming which has inspired audiences from neighborhood to festival stages. He also instructs a rigorous collegiate music theory course, and musically directs the school's fully-staged musical each spring. Through his tailored, collaborative coachings, his students have auditioned and been selected for participation in such honorary choirs as NMEA All-County, NYSSMA All-State, NAfME All-Eastern, the MYO Chorale, and the ACDA

All-Eastern/All-National Choir. He is a member of the eVoco Voice Collective, the Minister of Music at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Lake Ronkonkoma, and a freelance accompanist between Nassau and Suffolk counties. Kenneth received his BM in Music Education from the Crane School of Music, and completed his MS in Education at SUNY Stony Brook.

ABOUT THE METROPOLITAN YOUTH ORCHESTRA OF NEW YORK

The Metropolitan Youth Orchestra of New York (MYO) is committed to fostering a community of talented young musicians from Long Island and providing them with an opportunity to rehearse and perform choral and orchestral masterworks at the highest possible level with recognized leaders in music education and performance. Founded in 1993 by John C. McNeur, MYO has grown from a 15-piece orchestra to seven orchestras and nine choirs, serving close to 1,000 musicians between the ages of 8 and 18. MYO enjoys a rich tradition of international summer performance tours, beginning with the 1997 tour to Germany, France, and Austria through the most recent tour to Berlin, Dresden, Prague, Vienna, and Budapest in July 2018, and looking ahead to the July 2020 Italy Tour.
